Tura Collection

Shaped by architecture

The Tura collection is a game of volumes and voids, of light and shadows. Its reference point is Barcelona's 20th century architecture: the poetic curves of "La Ricarda" by Antonio Bonet, the superimposed volumes of the "Casa Ugalde" by José Antonio Coderch or the sophisticated rationalism of the "Joan Miró Foundation" by Josep Lluís Sert. This is a collection inspired by the forms of these iconic buildings as well as their emblematic design elements such as shutters, translated into pieces for the bathroom space.

The collection includes washbasins, furniture, complements, bathtubs, toilets, and bidets, that are designed in dialogue with the pure functionalism of these leading architects and with Roca's Mediterranean heritage.

In the same way that Coderch used the humble brick to build avant-garde buildings, Tura starts from traditional ceramics to sculpt a new language, one that is born from the fusion of shifting volumes. Tura stems from the Spanish cul-tura and architec-tura, the ending of a word and the beginning of a concept.

Design & Sustainability

Inspiration and the importance of details

The great Spanish architects shared an understanding about the importance of light and shadow and how shutters can be designed so as to embrace the sun while also protecting from it.

This common thread of Mediterranean design, in which light is filtered and softened like a game of hide and seek, is reflected in Tura's design. The hallmarks of the collection are seen in its voids, linear forms, geometric shapes and subtle earthy textures that absorb and add warmth. Tura is a return to the essence of the past but reinvented for the present.

Barcelona born designer Andreu Carulla designed Tura in collaboration with the Roca Design Center, translating these initial concepts into something concrete. Carulla sought to bring the landscape of his childhood in the Costa Brava to the collection's design through materials, forms and colours. The vertical lines of shutters, the void that filters a ray of sunlight, the soft finishes and natural textures evoke the beauty and history of the Mediterranean and its architecture. These elements were an essential part of the designer's vision for a bathroom collection intended for everyday use.

Sustainability is naturally woven into the collection through its timeless approach to design and production. The long-lasting and 100% natural ceramic materials are meant to last generations while new materials such as recycled outdoor fabrics for the cushion, the felt boxes with recycled cork lids and FSC® certified wood used in the furniture and trays reinforce the importance of considering the environmental impact at every step.

The Collection

Tura perfectly adapts to its surroundings whether it be a modernist apartment or a country house by the sea. Its timeless style, architectural forms combined with warm tones and textures open up the potential for inspired bathroom spaces that transcend the everyday and captivate the imagination.

Washbasins & Furniture

Based on architectural forms and modular shapes, the washbasins are unexpectedly bold and modern. The square and rectilinear lines are met by soft edges and subtle curves and they are designed with ample sink and counter space for everyday needs.

→ Over countertop basins, 450 mm / Ona faucets in matt black / Large felt boxes with cork cover

The structural and very geometric form of the washbasin is perfectly balanced by the innovative design of the drain. It is a linear, sophisticated model that moves away from the standard circular drain, blending seamlessly into the ceramic basin, leaving the surface bare.

Innovation is seen in every detail. The drawers are designed for maximum functionality, and the use of an integrated siphon allows ample space for multiple storage options. Tura furniture is available with one drawer with a bottom open shelf, two drawers, or asymmetric versions with two drawers and open side shelves.

Tura's furniture is an example of architectural synthesis, as they integrate seamlessly with the washbasins. Designed using straight lines, empty spaces and very simple shapes, the collection features three finishes: off-white, light noble grey and light terracotta, which like the other two, is equally subtle and natural.

Baths

The Tura bathtub is at once voluminous and light, and its ergonomic design is meant for rest and relaxation. Its unique stacking shape is inspired by an architectural cantilever system, giving the impression that the bathtub is floating in space. It is made with Stonex[®], an innovative material that allows for very precise shapes along with thin and linear forms that made it possible to create a subtle edge along the rim of the bath to hold the wooden shelf in place.

The FSC® certified wood shelf is designed to fit into the edge of the bathtub in a very simple but perfectly flush way. A functional and aesthetic piece that complements the bathtub design while adding in a natural element into the bathroom space.

The curved back is gently arched and designed to be supportive and comfortable; the height adjustable headrest includes a small pillow made with a quick-dry and mildew resistant outdoor fabric.

Complements

Tura's complements add personality and a softness to the bathroom. Designed to be flexible and used in many ways, the complements are functional as well as beautiful objects. The use of haptic materials not traditionally associated with bathroom spaces adds a warm and unexpected touch.

Felt boxes with cork cover

The felt storage boxes are lightweight, sustainably made and available in two different sizes. Their recycled cork lid can serve as a shelf on top of the washbasins.

A small bathtub pillow and attractive wood bath tray complete the collection. The unique handmade bath headrest is made of recycled, quick-dry fabric and features a wood counterweight for easy height adjustment.

Toilets & Bidets

The play of shapes and voids on the toilets and bidets gives the impression of looking at small ceramic buildings as seen from above. Available in wall-hung, floor standing, close-coupled models, they are designed to blend discreetly into the bathroom space.

Compact Solutions

A highlight of the Tura collection is a range of products designed for smaller bathroom spaces. Like small sculptural objects that serve a function, these iconic pieces provide compact solutions with an aesthetic sensibility. Designed with subtle detailing and architectural volumes for dynamic shapes, small bathrooms are transformed into stylish and surprising spaces. Sometimes the best things do come in small packages. Welcome to Tura's universe.

“Our work focuses on the root of things; it is reflexive; it searches for arguments and ideas” Andreu Carulla.

Andreu Carulla (Girona, 1979) dreamed of being an inventor when he was a child. This becomes evident in his sustainable designs filled with craftsmanship, which do not disregard technology, innovation, or the simplicity of materials and shapes. At his studio by a lake in Banyoles (Girona), far from the fast pace of large cities, he has been reinventing tableware, furniture, lamps, and interiors since 2006 by following a flexible principle: to create pieces with a conscience. Creative Director for Calma, Isist Atelier or El Celler de San Roca, some of his creations include the space at the Spanish Embassy in Helsinki, the “Normal” restaurant in Girona, the “Calma” chair, and the “Bolet” stool, among many other small objects of desire that are born out of his curious and eternally alert mind.
